TRADE COUNCIL
AKRON

FAITHFULNESS REWARDED.

Another loyal Republican, who, like Senator Alexander of Akron, insulted his own friends to please Mark Hanna, is about to receive his reward. Read what the Youngstown Vindicator says about the matter:

In the politician's vocabulary there is no such word as gratitude. When Congressman Weaver of the Spring field district, headed a mob to insult Governor Bushnell, to find favor with Hanna, he never occurred to him that as he measured to others it would be meted out to himself.
Congressman Weaver, during the Hanna fight, led a pack of dervishes into the governor's office at Columbus to abuse and intimidate Bushnell. This he did to make standing with Hanna. He sacrificed manhood that the blackguard might flourish. It was an act of brutish insolence that even his master did not require of him, and how it was appreciated is discovered in the order lately promulgated by Hanna for the retirement of Weaver. The boss sees the clouds lowering and he wants none but trusted agents to guard. A congressman who could dignify to insult the executive representative of the state, was a menial service that failed to commend the actor even in Hanna's eyes. In arranging his list of congressmen to be retired for better men, Hanna has named Weaver, and he accordingly will be guillotined on seeking a re-nomination.

There is interesting reading in the above for a few Akron men who recently measured their Republicanism by loyalty to Mark Hanna.

DON'T WANT QUAY.

Over in Pennsylvania Boss Quay is trying to ride back into power astride of the McKinley administration.

"Stand by the administration" will be his cry. State issues will be completely ignored.

tion which indorsed McKinley indorsed Quay who ex-Postmaster General Wamaker denounced as a "stench in the nostrils of decent men."

But the anti-Quay Republicans do not intend to fight the campaign on national issues. The following circular, just issued to voters explains their position.

"This is a campaign devoted solely to State issues. The election of a State Treasurer can in no way affect the money question, imperialism, expansion, trusts, tariff or other national issues. These questions will come up for a proper solution next year, when we will be ready and glad to meet and discuss them.
Neither can the cry stand by McKinley or indorse the administration be raised. We trust and believe that no president of the United States desires to have his administration indorsed at the humiliation and shame of our State. Such an indorsement no President wants or expects."

There will be a warm campaign in Pennsylvania this fall.

AS OTHERS SEE IT.

Chairman Dick has been given to understand by the McKisnottes that they must "knead the dough" in Cuyahoga county or they will kick over the whole bakeshop. Here is a pretty state of affairs. He can't check it either without a check.
Poor Dinky Dick! his woes are multiplying.—Mansfield Shield.

The Administration is preparing to dive deeper than ever into the pockets of the taxpayers to carry out its program of imperialism. The next Congress will increase the war taxes immensely, and the greater burden will fall upon the backs of the masses of the people.

ippines be decorated next Friday, when

OUTDOOR

Preliminary Work.

Akrons Will Practice on Athletic Grounds.

Candidates Will Report In Two Week.

Ruhlin-Jeffords Fight Later Part of October.

Yank Kenny Was An Easy Mark— Sporting News.

The candidates for positions on the Akron football team will report for duty two weeks from next Friday.

Arrangements are being made to place electric lights on the Buchtel College Athletic field. This will give the team an opportunity to have out-door work. Heretofore the candidates have practiced in a hall.

This method has never been satisfactory.

Manager Camp has received letters from teams throughout this and adjoining states, asking for dates with the local eleven. He will experience no trouble in arranging an excellent schedule. It is probable that the season will be formally opened on Sept. 23, with a game between the Akrons and Cleveland Athletic club.

Not in it.

Temper was unable to keep up with the leaders in the 2:19 trot at Hartford Tuesday. The race was won by Owyhee. Temper finishing

Not Until October.

Jim Jeffords, the big slugger from San Francisco, has been secured by Tom O'Rourke to come to New York and meet some of the big fellows in the heavyweight division. Jeffords' first battle in that vicinity will be with Gus Ruhlin, with whom he has been matched to fight for 20 rounds at the Lenox club the latter part of October. Both men will get in shape for the fight close to New York.

Kenny Defeated.

It is the fact that he was once Corbett's sparring partner, was defeated in a 25 round contest Monday night by Jake Bonner. They fought under the auspices of the Coney Island sporting club. Kenny was 30 pounds the heavier and Bonner was handicapped with a swollen jaw and ulcerated tooth.

Fast Fight.

Joe Choyinski and Jimmy Ryan fought 20 fast rounds at Dubuque, Ia., Tuesday night. Choyinski was an easy winner, having the better of the argument from the first tap of the gong. He weighed 158 pounds.
Ryan was several pounds lighter.

Battleship's Successful Trial Trip.

Lewis, Del., Aug. 30.—The builder's sulted in the development of a maximum speed of 17 1/2 knots. Edwin S.

Cramp of the William Cramp & Sons' Ship and Engine Building company said the builders were delighted with the showing made. Several officers of the Russian navy, who were aboard, expressed favorable opinions of the Alabama's sea-going qualities.

FIFTH REUNION

at Long Lake.

The fifth annual reunion of the person present was Mrs. Susan Vandersall who is 84 years old. The relatives and friends were pleasantly surprised by the arrival of two cousins, A. O. Ford and S. W.

Vandersall, from Pittsburg, Pa.
There were 14 relatives present from Sandusky county.

After dinner, the meeting was called to order by the president, Wm.

Spanish Character Studies.

Talleyrand's sarcasm about "language serving to conceal our thoughts" was possibly suggested, says a writer in The Arena, by the fact that silent nations are generally honest, and the contrast between the chattering Greek and the taciturn Turk is not greater than that between the laconic Castilian and his gossamer neighbor. "Buena noche, amigos"—"good night, friends," was the only remark of a one-eyed Aragon fencing master, whose remaining eye had been extinguished by a blundering tyro. "They call me grande in my father's house," said a Castilian nobleman when Charles IV had tried to quiz about his physical shortcomings, and even Spanish pariahs affect that breviloquence.

"Are you not ashamed to beg?" Baron von Enke asked an Andalusian vagabond who had solicited the loan of a small copper coin; "a big, stout fellow like you ought to stop looting and go to work."

"I didn't request your advice, sir," retorted the vagrant; "I asked you for a penny."

Were Asked to Locate a Book Agent.

Young Men Are Alarmed Because Goods Have Not Been Delivered.

D. B. Zimmer of Rochester, N. Y., is wanted by the police here on the charge of defrauding a number of young men.

Zimmer came to Akron on August 17 and stopped at the Bechtel hotel.
He represented himself as an agent of the book firm of R. H. Woodward & Co., of Baltimore, Md. He made it his business to secure young men as agents to sell books of "The Life of Dewey," "History of the Spanish-American War," and that class of reading matter. He charged every applicant $3.75 for an outfit, which was to arrive here about September 1st. He sold outfits to over ten men, but they have not yet received the same. They are very desirous of a meeting with Zimmer, who left Akron a week ago.

Eddystone.

The smallest inhabited island in the world is that on which the Eddystone lighthouse stands. At low water it is 30 feet in diameter. At high water the lighthouse, whose diameter at the base is 28 1/2 feet, completely covers it.
It is inhabited by three persons.

THE DOOR THAT OPENS.

Times When It Sends the Cold Shivers Down Your Back.

"Ever sit," said Mr. Goblinton, "late at night alone in a room, reading or studying, everybody goes to bed long ago, the house, the whole city, quiet, and see presently across the table on the other side of the room a door opening slowly? That's a hair raising experience. You don't know by what means the knowledge that it was opening was first conveyed to you, but you see it now, opening slowly and steady-ly and silently, and you get up and grasp the chair in which you have been sitting and stand up, with the table between you and him for further protection, and wait for him, but he doesn't come.

"Then you go around to the door. It has stopped now and is standing dead.
It yields with no resistance except that of its own weight when you open it wider, and, holding to it, you look around the door jamb into the hall.
Silence there, perfect and complete; nobody there; those were ghostly figures, if any, that turned the knob, and so you shut the door securely and go back to your reading.

"Presently you find the door open again, but this time there is an air of vacancy about it, and now you realize what it all means. The back of the catch bolt that you turn with a knob is worn off a little, rounded, or the metal frame around the socket into which the bolt enters may be worn, or both. Or it may be the door has shaken or the jamb has drawn away from it, so that only the tip end of the bolt catches in the socket and has a constant tendency to work free. The slightest shaking or jarring starts it, and gradually it works itself clear of the socket, and then, if it happens to be hung just so, the door slowly opens.

"And there you are, and it is all very simple when you come to know about it, but it's never altogether agreeable.
You never really get used to the door that opens."—New York Sun.

Strong Bank Notes.

So firm is the texture of a genuine Bank of England note that burning can hardly destroy it. The authorities have in a little glazed frame the remains of a note which was in the great fire of Chicago. Though completely charred and black, the note is sufficiently legible to establish its genuineness and be cashed.
